FROM WASHINGTON.

M. P. CONFERENCE CALL ON THE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—A delegation from the General Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church called on the President of the United States. The delegation was composed of about thirty gentlemen, all of whom were from the Southern and border States. The delegation was admitted immediately on its arrival, and each member introduced to the President by Rev. W. H. Willis, the presiding officer of the Conference.

Mr. Willis, addressing the President, said: The General Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, at quadrennial session, had unanimously resolved to pay their regards to your Excellency. As the presiding officer of the Conference, I have introduced to you the ministers and lay representatives.

Personally, it was with much pleasure that I yielded to the performance of this duty. I merely allude to the fiery ordeal through which we have passed, and I need not remind you of the difficulties which environ us and the poverty of our people. To this may be ascribed the meagre attendance of delegates at the Conference. I may say that the garb which I wear was worked by my wife and daughters. I might continue these remarks, but I fear in doing so I might trespass on your kindness. I pray the blessing of Almighty God may rest upon you, and that He may give you strength to perform your important public duties.

This was responded to by the delegates by a hearty "Amen."

The President, in reply, thanked him most sincerely for the compliment they had paid him by this visit. The prayer which had been offered that the Almighty would sustain him in his public labors he trusted would be heard and answered elsewhere, and in conclusion trusted that all their honest efforts would in the end be crowned with success, and that the day was not distant when peace and prosperity would be restored to an undivided country.

After a few moments of general conversation the company retired, evidently much pleased with the interview.

LIMITING THE EXECUTIVE POWER.

The remarks of Senator Fessenden to-day show why it was the Post-office bill was recalled from the House. It was not because he and his friends regretted their action in attaching an amendment, shortening the Executive arm in the matter of appointments and removals from office, but because of the manner in which it proposed to pass the enactment. Strip the proposition from the Post-office bill, and he would vote for it, and the same may be said of all those Republicans, who voted for the recall of the bill. That it will finally pass, as an independent measure, there can be no doubt, and this will be the signal for an early adjournment.

Preparations to Try Jeff. Davis—Judge Chase's Position on the Subject—The Increased Tax on Cotton—Spite Against the Article—Radical View of Ratifying Constitutional Amendments, &c.

[CORRESPONDENCE OF THE BALTIMORE SUN.]

WASHINGTON, May 9th.

It is undoubtedly true that preparations are now being made for the trial of Jefferson Davis before the United States Circuit Court, to be held at Norfolk. The grand jury lately charged by Judge Underwood, the United States District Judge, will probably find a bill of indictment against him for treason. But, notwithstanding this, Mr. Davis will not be brought to trial unless the President should issue a proclamation withdrawing martial law from Virginia. Chief Justice Chase will adhere to his often expressed determination not to try a criminal cause in a State where martial law prevails.

It appears probable that the House will concur with the committee of the whole in the clause of the revenue bill taxing cotton five cents a pound. The fall of cotton will render the tax onerous, and disproportioned to other taxes on production. There is a spite against cotton-growers. John Randolph hated woolgrowers, and said he would go a mile out of his way to "kick a sheep"; and the feeling in Congress against cotton growing is of the same character.

The Reconstruction Committee concur with Mr. Stevens in the opinion that the constitutional amendment requires only the ratification of three-fourths of the States now represented in Congress; that is, nineteen. These are the only States which are to be permitted to vote for presidential electors. Thus, if the views of the republican leaders be carried out, the next election will involve the country in as great a calamity as that from which it was supposed we had escaped.

The Reconstruction Committee, if called upon to decide between Mr. Bancroft and Earl Russell, will, of course, sustain the latter. The committee regard the union of the States as having been severed. IOTA.

Proceedings of Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 10, 1866.

SENATE.—The Senate passed the House bill allowing Vice Admiral Farragut to employ a Secretary with rank and pay of Lieutenant of the Navy.

The Senate also passed the House bill authorizing the coinage of five cent pieces.

The joint resolution relative to the adoption of measures for preventing the introduction of cholera was discussed during the morning hour. After which the Post-office appropriation bill was considered; the question being on the amendment of Mr. Trumbull, restricting the appointing power of the President; no vote was reached.

HOUSE.—The House resumed the consideration of the report of the Committee on Reconstruction. Some of the Radicals opposed the third section, disfranchising, till 1870, all persons who voluntarily adhered to the late insurrection, and, if an opportunity had been afforded, would have voted to strike it out; but Stevens rallied the Republican forces in a bitter speech against the leaders in secession, and thus united his forces in a solid body.

For the proposed amendment to the Constitution which, in effect, declares, First, the principles of the Civil Rights bill. Secondly, apportions representation according to numbers, but curtailing this to the extent that male citizens above twenty-one years of age are excluded from voting. Thirdly, disfranchising till July, 1870, all persons who voluntarily adhered to the late insurrection. Fourthly, prohibiting the assumption or payment of the Confederate debt, or compensation for loss of slaves; and fifthly, giving Congress the power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article. The vote on this amendment was 128 against 37. Applause followed the passage of the amendment, from the Radical elements of the galleries and double floor. This amendment now goes to the Senate for its action.—The House adjourned till Monday.

I can save each purchaser from $40 to $100. Price lists of the manufacturers will be sent to those who desire them, to aid them in making selections.

When selections shall have been made the money can be sent to me, at my expense, by the Southern Express, and a Piano will be shipped to the Depot the purchaser may designate. Each Piano sold will be fully warranted. Address me at Statesville, N. C.

The Late Hon. George E. Badger.

We regret that we have not been furnished, by some one competent to the task, with a sketch of the life and services of the distinguished statesman, in whose death the State of North Carolina has just experienced so conspicuous a loss. We hope that some gentleman of the bar, of which he was so bright an ornament, or some one of the cotemporaries and associates of his illustrious public career, will yet contribute such a memoir,—due alike to the memory of the departed, and to the annals of the State, which he adorned and upon which his name and great ability shed so much lustre.

Mr. Badger was a native of Newbern, and was born in the year 1795. His father was a native of Connecticut; his mother, a daughter of Richard Cogdell, who was one of the Provincial Council of Safety for the Newbern District in 1775. He was educated at Yale College, and read law with the Hon. John Stanly, who was his near relative.

Mr. Badger began public life as a member of the Legislature from the borough of Newbern in the year 1816. He was elected a Judge of the Superior Courts of the State in 1820, which position he held for five years. He was Secretary of the Navy under General Harrison in 1841, and resigned with the rest of the Cabinet, except Mr. Webster, shortly after President Tyler's veto of the United States Bank bill. In 1846 he was elected a Senator in Congress, in which exalted station he remained for eight years, with honor to himself and great and distinguished honor to North Carolina. His last service for the people was discharged as a member of the State Convention, which met on the 20th day of May, 1861.

We regret that our duties as daily journalists afford us no time to pay such a tribute to the public and private virtues of the eminent deceased as we feel that they are entitled to.—Leaving to other and more suitable hands the lofty task, we can but record our profoundest sense of the common affliction. A shining light has departed from out our constellation of great names,—leaving behind it, however, the radiance and reflection of a grand life, well and usefully spent!

"Then (twelve months ago) the prime authors of all our woes, the secessionists and latter-day war men, were, to all appearances, unconditional Unionists; now they are impudent and arrogant, and the true Unionists are dejected, cowed, proscribed, under the ban, socially, pecuniarily, and politically."—Standard.

The only "political" proscription to which "true Unionists," self-styled, are subjected, is at the hands of the people, who, as yet, whatever may be in store for them under the pressure of Radical malignity, have the privilege of selecting their own rulers and representatives. But it is only the so-called "true Unionists" who are thus proscribed,—the men who, after having done all they could to precipitate the revolution, afterwards betrayed those whom they urged to the conflict,—the men who sympathize with the Jacobins of Congress, as against the President, in their policy of destruction and dis-union. Such men will continue to be repudiated by our patriotic and honest masses.

The only "pecuniary" proscription to which we can conceive that the Standard has reference, is to the generally-rumored falling off in the circulation of that paper. But it is really rather too much for our neighbor to expect, that the people of North Carolina will continue to support and sustain a journal that is constantly decrying their loyalty to the Government, co-operating with their bitter enemies in Congress, and which has even gone so far as to declare the State "unfit to be the associate in the Union of the loyal States of Ohio and Pennsylvania!" As to any other sort of pecuniary pressure, we are all in the same box. There never was a more impoverished people than those of the South, at this moment, and under the threatened legislation of Congress, for which the Standard has no word of denunciation, or even of manly protest, they have but little encouragement or inducement to attempt to retrieve their fallen fortunes.

The only "social" proscription that we are aware of as existing, is directed against those who would war upon our "social" rights. Every man who behaves himself properly and demeans himself in a conciliatory and generous manner towards his neighbors, or those with whom he may be locally associated, will be received and treated in a similar spirit of comity and good will. If men, of the violent and offensive radical type, for instance, choose to come to or to remain in our midst, and are content to stay among a people whose deep hatred they are incurring by their atrocious doctrines and teachings, may we not be allowed to go our ways, surrounded by friends in whom there is a mutual and constant sympathy, without being arraigned for "social proscription!" If such characters can remain among us, content with the contempt of true Southern men and with the love and admiration of the negro, surely we can be equally at liberty and equally content to live among friends and kindred.

GOLD closed in New York, at our latest advices, at 129½. Cotton was firm at 34@35 cents.

FOR NEWS and miscellany, see first and fourth pages.

Hon. Jno. Bell.

This veteran and eminent Statesman is publishing a series of interesting and able letters in the Nashville Union and American.

He gives it as his opinion that the Union, as contemplated by the Constitution, no longer exists, and expresses apprehensions that free institutions are in danger, if the designs of the Radical cabal controlling Congress be not soon abandoned or thwarted. He draws, also, a vivid picture of the future which awaits the people of the South in the embrace of such a government as is being established. Notwithstanding the gloomy prospect, however, he counsels forbearance and endurance on their part, and rests his chief hope on the return of sanity among the misled people of the North, and the overthrow of the ambitious leaders, whose course would drive any one but a noble and patient people to desperation, and lead the Government on a wild career of misrule and tyranny, from thence to be precipitated into an abyss of greater evils than it has yet encountered.

The Laws and Journals.

The Journals of the General Assembly of the regular, the called and adjourned sessions have been printed and are in the hands of the binder. The laws passed at all the sessions are being rapidly carried through the press. They have been nearly all printed, but they will be necessarily delayed for the reason that the Legislature, in ordering the reprint of a large number of the laws passed since 1859-'60, ordered that they should be bound up with the new laws passed. The edition being very large, it will require time to print and bind them. But they will be sent out at the earliest moment possible. The laws alone will make 500 pages.

We have frequent applications for extra copies of the laws and journals. We have heretofore stated that the Public Printer does not print any extra copies for sale. Persons who desire them must apply to the Secretary of State.

ARMY NEWS WHICH IS GOOD NEWS.—It is now stated, says Forney's Chronicle, "on what is deemed reliable authority, that President Johnson is considering the propriety of discontinuing military divisions, departments and posts, and discharging all volunteer organizations, white and colored." We hope this is more true than the majority of Forney's statements. If we are to have soldiers in the South, by all means let them be regulars, who are all white people, commanded by officers who are soldiers, and not politicians.

Governor's Aids.

We are authorized to announce that Gov. Worth has appointed the following gentlemen his Aides de Camp, with the rank of Colonel: A. J. DARGAN, of Anson, J. T. MOREHEAD, Jr., of Guilford, WALTER CLARK, of Halifax, and JNO. M. PERRY, of Carteret.

MRS. JEFFERSON DAVIS.—The Norfolk Old Dominion, of the 9th, has the following:

"This accomplished lady visited our city yesterday, on a short trip from Fort Monroe, accompanied by Dr. Cowper, the gentlemanly Surgeon of the Post. We learn that the object of her visit was to procure a sort of housekeeper's outfit, as one the casemates at the fort had been assigned for her accommodation.

We trust that this most estimable lady will be allowed to continue in attendance upon her husband, as we learn that his health has been very much enfeebled by his close confinement during the past year. Nothing but his native energy could have sustained him through the ordeal of his imprisonment; as his habits have always been of the most active nature. Horseback exercise daily and rural scenery have always been his sine qua non.

Mrs. Davis availed herself of the opportunity to partake of the hospitalities of her friends in Norfolk. A number of tokens of regard were tendered in the shape of bouquets, wines and the substantials of life for herself and Mr. Davis, which we trust will be productive of comfort during their continuance at the fort.

We are gratified to chronicle the fact that when Mrs Davis came to settle her bill at Messrs. Taylor & Wilson's, for groceries, et id omne, it was handed to her receipted in full, with the statement that it had been paid by the citizens of Norfolk."

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—A special messenger arrived yesterday at Los Angelos, bringing dispatches from the commander of Fort Grant to Gen. Mason, announcing that Fort Goodwin, Arizona, had been taken by 2,000 Indians, and the garrison, numbering 124 men, were massacred, with one exception. The Fort was burned. The man who escaped was out hunting, and witnessed the commotion from a distance. He saw the fort burning and heard the firing of guns during the fight, which lasted nearly an hour. The Indians are supposed to have gained admittance under pretence of entering into a treaty of peace, which Gen. Mason had instructed the commander to make.

NEW HAVEN, May 9.—At the Republican caucus to-night, seven informal ballots were taken for Senator. The last ballot succeeded, Foster receiving 65, Buckingham 4 and Ferry 78. General Orris S. Ferry was then unanimously nominated.

RICHMOND, May 10.—The anniversary of the death of Stonewall Jackson was observed to-day by floral decorations of the graves of Confederate soldiers at Hollywood and Oakwood. Both cemeteries were thronged with ladies and their escorts. Several brief addresses were delivered at each place.

Business was generally suspended in the city.

CAPTAIN A. CATESBY JONES.—This officer, formerly lieutenant in the U. S. Navy, and during the late war captain in the Confederate naval service, has been appointed by the Peruvian government chief of ordnance in the navy of that country. During the late war he was first lieutenant of the famed iron-clad Virginia, and participated in the memorable engagements between that vessel and the United States fleet, in Hampton Roads, in 1862.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The steamer Napoleon, from Havre, arrived to-day. It is reported that Head Centre Stevens is a passenger.

RELIEF FOR ALABAMA.—H. A. Schroeder, Esq., of Mobile, acknowledges the receipt of $3,000 from the ladies of the Southern Relief Fair held in Baltimore, being the first installment of the $10,000 appropriated for aid of the suffering people of Alabama. Mr. S. has sent the money to Gov. Patton for distribution.

For the Sentinel.

THE 10TH OF MAY, 1866.

LINES suggested by the address of Seaton Gales, Esq., to the Ladies of Raleigh, on the anniversary of the death of Stonewall Jackson.

Oh! shed not a tear for the hero who died,
When the flag of his country was flying,
But scatter with lilies and roses the grave
Where he slumbers in glory undying.
He knew not the sorrow the conquered must feel,
The grief of a fruitless endeavor,
The heart breaking pang when the struggle was o'er,
And that banner was folded forever!
Keep tears for the nation that, conquered and ruined,
Can lay o'er its heroes no tablets of stone,
Though it writes every one on the true heart of woman,
Which feels that our soldiers are never unknown.
Oh! then, let us make a fragrant ovation
In honor of Jackson, the tenth of each May,
And with roses that bi somed as a hero lay dying
Wreathe over the graves of his comrades that day;
That their memory, like spring time, forever may be
Embalmed in the fragrance of flowers,
And their graves to the hearts of our children unborn
Be as dear as they now are to ours!

TENELLA.

The Radicals and Their Game of Revolution---The Danger to the Country.

Congress is getting into deep water. On Tuesday morning last, according to appointment, the reconstruction scheme of the joint committee of fifteen was taken up in the House as the special order of the day. This scheme embraces a constitutional amendment and two supplemental bills. Mr. Stevens explained that the amendment would be first considered, and that it was not the purpose of the committee to have the two bills acted on until it was seen what disposition the Senate would make of the amendment. The proposition before the House fell far short of his wishes, but he believed that it was all that could be obtained in the present state of public opinion.

Something is due, then, even in the estimation of Stevens, to "the present state of public opinion." But let us see what he is aiming at. He says that "not only Congress, but the several States are to be consulted. On a careful survey of the whole ground the committee did not believe that nineteen of the loyal States could be induced to ratify any proposition more stringent than this. He repeated 'nineteen States;' for he utterly repudiated and scorned the idea that any State not actually in the Union was to be counted in the question of ratification." This is an important feature, then, in the scheme of the committee. Three-fourths of the States now represented in Congress are to be deemed sufficient for the ratification of the proposed amendment; and its ratification by the other States is to be required only as a condition of their restoration to Congress. The amendment abolishing and interdicting slavery was officially declared a part of the constitution by the Secretary of State, in having received a ratification by twenty-seven States, or three-fourths of all the States of the Union, in or out of Congress. Now, it Congress shall accept a ratification by nineteen States as enough, how is the Secretary of State to be made to proclaim it as required by the constitution? Does not this make a case for an impeachment of President Johnson?

Assuming, however, that this idea of impeachment, from the utter impossibility of carrying it out, is not entertained, the question recurs, what is this joint committee aiming at? Mr. Stevens admits that the third section of the proposed constitutional amendment, which seeks to disfranchise from all federal elections till the Fourth of July, 1870, all persons voluntarily aiding the late rebellion, becomes a dead letter under the pardoning power of the President. If, therefore, under the amnesty proclamations and special pardons already issued by the President the most of the Southern people are not affected by this constitutional amendment, may not the rest of them be relieved in the same way? The proposition, however, was intended to rule out the Southern States concerned from the Presidential election of 1868; and we presume that as it has been found ineffectual, some other device will be contrived for that purpose, in an amendment of this third section. In fact, the object of this radical Congress is so manifestly the continued exclusion from the government of the now excluded States, not only till 1870, but for an indefinite number of years to come, that we care not to waste any further time upon the details of this Congressional scheme. It is at best only a scheme for a revolutionary reconstruction of the government under the ruling faction of this Congress, or for the perpetuation of their power after the fashion of the Directory of the first experimental French republic. If this is permitted, the next thing will be a reaction from anarchy to a despotism, as in the case of the first Napoleon; or from another commonwealth of roundheads like that of England to the old monarchical system; or from the fighting factions of the republic to the consolidation of all the powers of the government in another Cæsar.

Thaddeus Stevens and his joint committee are fighting behind a masked battery. Under the cover of plausible measures of national security they seek to disguise their real designs. But Wendell Phillips, the infallible pioneer of the radical faction, speaks without reserve and without quibbling. He despises the cant of "constitutional" measures. He hates the word. He says so. He wants universal suffrage, negro political and social equality; he wants "liberty, equality and fraternity," without any constitutional drawbacks. He wants negroes in the government, and he is disgusted at the shrinking of the radicals of Congress. Phillips discloses what Stevens would conceal. Phillips, fighting his battles at his own expense, has no favors to ask of parties or State elections.—Stevens, as a party leader, dependent upon popular support, is compelled to bend to public opinion. Stevens, however, though far behind with his reconstruction wagon, is still on the same road with Phillips. Hence, whatever may be the scheme of reconstruction finally agreed upon in this Congress—if they can agree upon anything—the people will be secure only in adhering to the simple, safe and acceptable policy of President Johnson. The radicals contemplate a radical revolution in the government. There is danger in it, disguise it as they may. If the American people desire to perpetuate the blessings of constitutional liberty, they should prepare at once for the necessary work of putting down these revolutionary radicals in the approaching election for the next Congress.—N. Y. Herald.

A METHODIST PARSON WITHOUT HIS POINTS.—New Orleans is a great city, a wonderful city, very French-American city. I said "up or down." There does not seem to be either. No city in Europe or America has puzzled me like this. Four hours for the mastering of the topography of a capital has been my rule heretofore. But five days leave me just where I was the first night. Sunrise, sunset, the run of the river are all in heaps to me.—[C. F. D. to N. Y. Watchman.]

You havn't learned the "points" yet, Doctor. Up the river north, that's south. Down the river south, that's north. As for the course of the sun, it's sunshine all around us, in our heavens, our hearts and home, and hopes.—[N. O. Picayune.]

A negro tried to marry a white woman in Nashville, last Tuesday, but all the Justices and ministers refused to tie the knot.

GOOD CROPS IN TENNESSEE.—The Bolivar (Tenn.) Bulletin thinks that in that region there will be put in cultivation this year at least double the quantity of land that was tilled in 1865. Many of the large fields that have only served as pastures for the past three or four years are now being put in condition suitable for planting purposes.

During the debate in the House, Tuesday, Mr. Boyer, of Pennsylvania, referred to Mr. Stevens as "the head centre of the Republican majority in the House."

Trial of Major Jno. H. Gee.

SYNOPSIS OF TESTIMONY.

FORTY-SIXTH DAY.

[CONCLUDED.]

THURSDAY, May 10, 1866.

Freeman McK. Shelton:—Charlotte. Was boss carpenter at Sailsbury. Before the arrival of the prisoners of war had enough tools to accommodate about four men.

I received orders one evening to remove the fence next day. (Witness shows on the map the manner in which the stockade was built.) Had no lumber except that of the inner fence. It was 25 or 30 days before we could finish the outside stockade. I made out bills for it. The fence was put up in a hurry; you could shake it with your hand for fifty yards. Boards did not go into the ground. A man could scratch out in ten minutes. Martin, a convict, and I had all the tools. I went out to hunt tools but couldn't find any for sale.

Upon the arrival of the prisoners of war, I made out a bill of lumber amounting to 300,000 feet, to build houses. There were to be six of them, 200 feet long, 22 ft. wide and 20 ft. high. We got about 28,000 feet of frame lumber. We had about a dozen carpenters, chiefly prisoners of war, detailed or paroled by Major Morfit. I had orders to select such as I thought could do the work, as many as I had tools for. Morfit often hurried me up. The lack of lumber prevented the erection of these buildings. Major Morfit said they would never be put up, because the prisoners were to be removed. I think this was in December, 1864. This requisition for —— feet for barracks for the prisoners of war, was made directly after they came there.

Efforts to get tools were made regularly.—Have heard Maj. Gee frequently urge Morfit to get lumber. He said to get it any way he could. Morfit said he was trying every day to get it, but could not. The guard house was erected after Gen. Johnson came there. I could buy a little lumber, by paying for it in work.

All the tools we had would not give employment for more than 8 hands. In the cooper shop we made water buckets out of scraps, and split some timber in the woods. There were 150 or 200 buckets made. We worked up all the lumber we had. The bunks which we made went into the prison. Some of these scraps was made into spittoons for the hospitals.

I drew for a month's rations, after the prisoners of war came, 20 lbs. flour and ten pounds meat; before they came 32 lbs. flour and 15 of meat. The prisoners of war who worked with me drew the same as I did. They drew sorghum when I didn't. When there was no meat at the commissary I would put off drawing my rations. I have staid as long as a week without drawing meat. I have gone as long as three days without drawing anything. I went to draw and they said they had nothing, and it was three days before I went back. We had about eighteen workmen. No difference between the treatment of prisoners and the other workmen.

We fixed water barrels very often, whenever they were brought to the shop. We reported to Morfit every evening what we had done during the day.

Didn't have axes. There was no suitable timber near to build log houses inside the prison. I think they could not have been built while they stayed there. Fuel was scarce. I have seen the guard have their log fires unusually small—a good deal of complaint.

Maj. Morfit had a notice put up that no one should enter, except on business.

We made scrub brooms, used by the prisoners to clean out the hospitals.

Cross-Examined.—There was plenty of timber within a mile of the prison. They made about 3 axes a day in the shops. A good part of the time they had not iron—they finished some of them—they made the axe entirely new.

I don't know what efforts were made to get the lumber. I made a bill for it.

R. D. Taylor, Randolph county, a farmer.—Was police-sergeant at Salisbury. Received my orders from Maj. Gee and Major Morfit, and reported to them every day—how my men were getting on, and the condition of the prisoners. I had 10 in my police party; workmen and all, 20. Twenty were ditching, ten cleaning up the filth. They worked all day, except an hour for dinner and rest. They received twice as much rations as the others. I would get a ticket from Lyerly or Leak, and go to the cook's house and get the rations.

These men volunteered. They seemed to be anxious to do the work. We had a night police. Their duty was to prevent all disturbances; they were prisoners of war. There were tubs for the sick, placed near the tents. They were emptied in the sink by the policemen, every morning. There were ditches that drained the water in the prison into the main sink.—There was a gate to let the water out of the sink.

I don't know of any other means for policing the prison than were used. Maj. Gee showed anxiety to have the prison cleaned. I had enough tools. There was an axe to each hospital and each division. They told me there were a good many private axes.

At the time of the outbreak I was in the cook-house, and by the time I got to the parapet to Major Gee the firing was over.

Major Gee said to let them buy things to eat, but no whiskey. I went to him for the grave diggers.

I have seen the wood-cutters coming in nearly every evening. I have seen him see the diggers coming in. They would put food under their coats, but would always carry it in. They appeared to be hiding it. I have seen the officers of the day examine them and let them take in food.

There were from five to ten feet of water in the wells.

Cross-Examined.—Don't know what they were hiding their provisions under their coats for. I policed the prison regularly every day from the 3rd of November, 1864. The sinks were cleaned out when it rained.

My squad drew rations every morning between 8 and 10 o'clock.

Re-Direct.—I don't recollect of any day when they did not get anything.

J. L. Keeling, Greensboro' N. C.—Belongs to Freeman's battalion, Co. B. There was a row of sticks before the ditch was dug, to serve as a dead line.

I was wood sergeant—my duty, to issue wood to the prisoners of war. We had a line of sentinels down to the wood-pile. The prisoners passed through and took it to the prison. The wood was carried to the hospitals and bakeries by waggons; we gave 4 cords to the bakery and 7 to the hospital. I have supplied as high as 35 cords on a cold day. Wood was scarce and we issued according to the weather.

There were enough men allowed to go out to carry in the wood for the day.

This wood was issued to the various squads in proportion to their numbers.

I always gave a receipt for the wood hauled into the bakeries and prison.

When the prisoners came, Major Gee told me to take charge of the wells and get them dug as soon as possible. We worked all day and part of the night. There were from five to six wells inside the prison, I think.

The day of the outbreak, Major Gee told me to take charge of the cook-house and to report to him three or four times every day—to examine the cook-house and report to him. There were no ovens. I got some from Myers that day. Nichols' duties were to draw rations and deliver them at the cook-house. When we didn't have any wood, I kept dunning Goodman for it. I have been four or five times a day. He said he could not get it. While I was attending to the wood, Major Gee sent a prisoner to me to get some.

Major Morfit said it was just as I chose about letting him have the wood. He said he was not under Major Gee.

The outbreak took place about 2 or 3 o'clock. Heard firing—I saw Maj. Gee on the parapet near the cook house, ordering not to fire. There were two or three shots after that. I don't recollect Maj. Gee's interfering between the citizens and prisoners. When the fuss commenced I was in the cook house. The firing lasted about 5 minutes. I think one cannon shot went through the top of the brick building. I saw one of the guard brought out dead.

I recollect Maj. Gee's asking me a good many times how much I had issued that day, and he told me to give them plenty of wood.

I have seen prisoners carrying in provisions. I have seen some men carry in fifty p'es; never knew an officer to stop it. Have seen people take provisions to prisoners. Don't know what class.

Cross-Examined.—I got a particular number of men from each squad to get wood,—sometimes seven, sometimes less. They came in turn till they finished it. I have never known wood carried twice by the same squad in a day. They generally had as much as they wanted.

I got out twice while the prisoners were there. Then waggons carried into the prisoners. There were 5 or 6 teams a day hauling to the bakeries and hospital—sometimes 8 or 10 teams. I was only 2 or 3 days in the cook house.

The prisoners carried the pies in openly.

Re-Direct.—I did not issue all I had every day, but saved it to issue on cold days.

To Court.—On an average, I issued to the prisoners 17 or 18 cords a day.

Court adjourned till 10 a. m., on Monday.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Davis and Jones present a most attractive array of everything that is nice in the way of necessaries and luxuries.

See Professional Card of Dr. R. B. Haywood. Maj. J. H. Hope, of the Yarborough House, it will be seen, has leased the celebrated Jones' Sulphur Springs in Warren county. This has always been one of the most attractive and delightful places of summer resort in the South, and we are sure that its reputation will not suffer under the present management.

THE LATE HON. GEO. E. BADGER.—A meeting of the Bar and citizens was held at the Court House, on Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of testifying the respect of all classes of our people for the memory of our late distinguished fellow-citizen, the Hon. Geo. E. Badger.

The meeting was well attended. Appropriate eulogies were pronounced by Hon. Chas. Manly, and B. F. Moore and R. W. Lassiter, Esqs., and suitable resolutions adopted. We shall publish the proceedings and eulogiums in our next.

EXCURSION.—Gov. Worth and the Public Treasurer made a brief pleasure excursion, in company with other gentlemen, to Morehead City, the past week, and returned on Friday night, somewhat invigorated by the sea breeze. The state of the weather while there was unfavorable to successful fishing. Beaufort harbor affords the finest sport in this regard, when wind and weather are favorable. We learn that our friend T. L. Hall, of Morehead City Hotel, is making his arrangements for visitors during the approaching season.

JAIL DELIVERY.—Some twelve prisoners succeeded in making their escape from the City Jail on Friday night. The alarm was promptly given, and the fugitives pursued. We learn that nine of them were re-arrested.

The Jail, notwithstanding recent repairs, is very insecure, and it behooves the County Court to take immediate steps for providing a safe place of confinement for offenders.

RESIGNED.—Col. J. T. Kennedy has resigned his seat in the State Convention, as one of the delegates from the county of Wayne. Dr. Thomas Person announces himself as a candidate to fill the vacancy.

DELEGATES TO THE P. E. CONVENTION.—The following gentlemen have been appointed delegates to the Episcopal Council to be held in Newbern, on the 30th., on behalf of Christ Church, in this City, viz: Messrs. George W. Mordecai, Jno. R. Bryan, K. P. Battle and W. R. Cox. Alternates: Messrs. C. E. Fisher, Sea-ton Gales, R. H. Battle, Jr., and Cad. J. Iredell.

"LUCY LEILAND" in our next.

BISHOP ATKINSON.—We are pleased to learn that the health of this able and highly venerated minister of Christ is improving, and that it is very probable he will be able to be present and administer the rite of Confirmation in St. Stephen's Church, Goldsboro', Sunday next, the 13th. inst.—Goldsboro News.

GUILFORD COUNTY.—A correspondent of the Richmond Times, writing from Greensboro, has the following:

"Near by are the classic grounds of old Guilford Courthouse, memorable in the history of the revolution of 1776. 'Twas here also that General Johnston, in May, '65, surrendered the last hope of the Confederacy. Many sad stories are told of that gallant old army of the West, after having marched from the banks of the Mississippi, fighting desperate odds inch by inch till it reached Greensboro. Nearly all the young men from this part of North Carolina were in the army of Northern Virginia, and Greensboro, like all other Southern towns, exhibits the sad spectacle in its streets of many of its best citizens maimed for life. Guilford county, though one of the most unconquersable Union counties in the State, when the tocsin of war sounded was found among the foremost. From Williamsburg to Gettysburg the bones of her sons attest her devotion to principle. Since the close of the war, her people, thoroughly loyal and honest, have accepted the decision of fate, and gone to work with a will that must be crowned with success."

THE FREEDMEN IN WARREN.—A correspondent of the Norfolk Virginian gives an interesting account of affairs in the County of Warren. Of the freedmen he says:

"The freedmen in this section are doing better than in any place which I have recently visited. Most of them, indeed nearly all, have entered into regular yearly engagements with their former owners; some for money, and some for a part in the crops raised, and all seem to be working away, quite contented and satisfied. This has been brought about by agents of the Freedmen's Bureau, aided by a local police from the citizens of the County, who have forced the colored men and women to make such engagements and to comply with the obligations entered into. I learn that the plan is working much good. At the recent Christian Convention at Mount Auburn, there were more than one thousand colored persons present on the Sabbath, and I did not see or hear of a single instance of insolence or impropriety on the part of any of the large number present."

Governor Andrew, the Washington correspondents say, inclines to the President's policy.

General Dick Taylor is about to engage in the development of the Georgia gold regions.

HEALING SPRINGS,

BATH COUNTY, VA.

This celebrated WATERING PLACE will be opened to visitors on the 1st June next.

It gives the undersigned great pleasure to inform the public that, with liberal expenditures by the proprietors, the attractions for the ensuing season will be such as to gratify both the invalid and those in search of pleasure.

The principal buildings are extensive and substantial, and, with beautiful cottages, will furnish comfortable accommodations for three hundred visitors—They have all been painted and put in thorough repair, and the Building and Furniture in every department is new. The medicinal virtues of the waters are so generally and favorably known that it would be superfluous to enter into an elaborate statement on that subject; their efficacy is attested by numbers who have found relief at this fountain of health from some of the most distressing maladies to which the human family is subject. For a detailed and particular account of the properties of the waters and their effects, reference is made to a pamphlet to be had on application in person or by letter to Messrs. Purcell, Ladd & Co., Richmond, who will always have a supply of the water for sale.

Complete arrangements have been made for Hot and Cold, Spout and Shower Baths, and Plunge Baths; and, in addition to the mineral waters, an abundant supply of the purest freestone water has been brought from a spring in the mountains, a mile distant, and at an elevation of a thousand feet. Every advantage has been taken of the flow of water to arrange for the comfort of visitors.

These Springs are delightfully situated in Bath county, surrounded by the most beautiful and picturesque scenery, and, present together attractions at least equal to any place in the mountains of Virginia, occupying a central position in the group of mineral springs for which that portion of Virginia is so justly celebrated.

Three miles from the Hot Springs, eight from the Warm, thirteen from the Bath Alum, and twenty-eight from the Rockbridge Alum, they are easy access by the Central Railroad and its connections to Milboro' Depot, and thence by stages over a fine turnpike road twenty-three miles to the Springs, passing on the route by the Bath Alum, the Warm and the Hot Springs, and crossing the Warm Spring Mountain. Every part of this route is connected with historical incidents of great interest, and the scenery is of unsurpassed beauty and grandeur.

A Physician, experienced in the use and effects of the waters will reside at the Springs.

By the 1st of June there will be a daily mail, and a daily line of stages from Milboro' to the Springs.

The price of Board will be three dollars per day; children and servants in proportion. A deduction of 10 per cent. made on all bills for 30 days or over.

The Agent will spare no pains to render the place a comfortable and agreeable home and feels himself, from its long experience and the advantages of the place, that he will be able to give satisfaction.

An Extraordinary Statement in Regard to Rheumatism and Pleurisy.

Peter Vaden, Esq., Dinwiddie county, Va., (Nov. 6, 1865) says: "In August 1857, my wife, aged 66 years, was taken ill with what the doctor called a Bilious Rheumatism affecting her whole system; rendering her entirely helpless, so much so that she had to be lifted and fed as an infant, for the space of three months, suffering the most excruciating pain; her hands drawn out of shape and stiff, so that she could not use them. After all other remedies failed, in January 1858, I was advised to get the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS for her. She used the Pills strictly according to the directions accompanying them, and we soon discovered a change for the better, and in one month's using she was well, and continued so up to the present time; has become healthy, cheerful, and as active as one could be of her age. Cured my servants was taken with a violent attack of Bilious Pleurisy. I gave him those Pills, and in about ten days he was up and at his work; said that he felt as well as he ever did, and has continued well ever since.—Another was taken with Pleurisy. I gave the Pills, and she was well and at her work in ten days after she commenced using them. My Doctor's bill has been heretofore from $175 to 200 per year. I have used them in my family, which consists of eighteen white and colored, and have not called in a doctor during the year. This is a great saving. They certainly are the best family medicine ever discovered. After a fair trial I can recommend them as such."

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the [so called] remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 41 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

A BOON TO THE SICK AND THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.

DR. MAGGIEL'S PILLS AND SALVE.

These Life-giving remedies are now given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these

LIFE-GIVING PILLS!

Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be

A VERY FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH,

For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state.—To the young and middle-aged they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to vigor and make youth ever

An Eternal Spring!

It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show in one glorious fact, that magic that made it fair.

THESE FAMOUS REMEDIES

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back, and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity the offers. When taken as prescribed—

FOR BILLIOUS DISORDERS

Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.

FOR CUTANEOUS DISORDERS

And all eruptions of the skin the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil!

CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

WITH corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLIA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or Kings' Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

Ayers Cherry Pectoral is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is needless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.

COTTON GINS,

MANUFACTURED BY

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.,

COLUMBUS, GA.

WE have received the manufacture of Cotton Gins in this city, and will be prepared to fill orders by 1st June next. As we shall not be, as heretofore, represented by traveling agents, parties wishing our Gins, will confer a favor by sending in their orders at an early day. As owing to the demand, we shall be unable to keep a stock in the hands of our local agents, as it was our practice before the war. All business transactions being now reduced to cash, our sales will be made on the basis of ready pay.

Our Gins are too well known to require any special notice or commendation; we believe they are unrivalled in the chief points of excellence which go to make up a superior machine, namely: speed, light draught and good sample.

Our DOUBLE CYLINDER GINS will be found superior to the single cylinder, when parties have steam or good water power, to give them the necessary speed. In all cases when this can be done, we recommend them in preference to the single cylinder. If, however, indifferent or insufficient power is used, they will not do as well as the single Gin.

Messrs. DeROSSET & CO., Wilmington, N. C., are our general agents for the State of North Carolina.

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.
Columbus, Ga., April 24 '66

We will give prompt attention to orders for the above celebrated Gins from any part of the State. The price is five dollars ($5) per Saw at the Factory, and five dollars for each Gin will only be charged to purchasers for transportation to this point.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

The Tendency of Population Southwest.

There can be no denying the fact that the whole tendency of emigratory population is now towards the South-west. We hear nothing now-a-days of expeditions over the plains, nothing of California, and nothing of British America. Even Brazil and Mexico, the promised lands of political malcontents, have been given up, and everybody are turning their faces hither. This is no new idea. Long before the war, and perhaps the principal cause of it, this generous Southern climate and the fertile lands were known to all the people of the North, East and West. The desire to possess them became an all-controlling desire, so much so that nine-tenths of the letters written from the barren home in the North to the Federal troops serving during the war in the South, were filled with injunctions to look up nice, new homes for the writers thereof. We have seen any number of them ourselves, and can vouch for this being the controlling idea. And since, and during the war, it has seemed to be the highest ambition of disbanded troops and followers of the army to locate themselves in the paradise of which they had heard, and now become personally acquainted with.

However that may be, the South-western country was never so full before, and still they come from somewhere out of the national beehive, and swarm down upon us as did the people of Northern Europe upon fair Italy and sunny France. New Orleans has a population vastly larger than ever before, and the same may be said of all the cities of the South-west. Not only this side of the river, but beyond, the whole country is rapidly filling up with an industrious, thrifty population, both from this and the old world; and if we are fully to credit all the reports which come to us from Texas, that State will, this harvest season, gather in far larger crops of corn and wheat and cotton, and more cattle and wool, than any year before.

After all, Mr. Seward may not, in his poetical dreams before the war, as set forth in his "Elements of Empire in America," have been so far out the way when he located the real commercial capital of the Western world somewhere on the American coast of the Gulf; and, if this immense immigration hither go on a few years longer, as it has gone on the year past, New England will go back to its original barrenness, Boston become as Tyre or Sidon, New York as Babylon, and the fever and ague country of the Western Reserve be abandoned to its native bull-frogs and miasmas, for the sunny cotton and orange groves of the Southwest.—Picayune.

[From the London Star, April 18th.]

An Unflattering Picture of the British House of Commons.

If Demosthenes were alive in our day, and were afflicted with his early difficulties of elocution, he might find a severer school of practice than on the margin of the roaring deep. To attempt to address the House of Commons in favor of reform, and in front of a sea of howling tories, would be the best possible test of the lungs, the articulation and the patience of a raw student of eloquence. It must be owned that what the tories lack in argument they make up in noise. The beastly bellowing of which O'Connell complained was as uproarious and vehement on Monday night as at any time during the passages of arms which took place between the Irish orator and the statesman whom he designated Scorpion Stanley. Every conservative seemed inclined to do the lion's part, according to Bottom's definition of it—nothing but roaring. The tories howled down their opponents when they could not reply to them. A running fire of the rudest interruptions, the coarsest contradictions, strove perpetually to disturb the composure of every speaker who took the ministerial view of the question. It is somewhat difficult to understand why the rules which regulate the intercourse of gentlemen everywhere should be suspended in favor of a gathering of tories, simply because they are seated under the roof of what is commonly called the greatest legislative assembly in the world. Certainly that working-men's meeting would be regarded as grossly and inexcusably exceptional indeed which tolerated one-tenth of the roystering, vulgar and uproarious conduct in which toryism rioted and revelled during the parliamentary debate of Monday evening.

Errors Likely to be Reproduced in History.

A writer in the New York News gives what purports to be a true account of certain events that took place at and immediately after the evacuation of Richmond. He says that the civil government (President and Cabinet, except Breckenridge,) went to Gordonsville; that there, upon hearing of Lee's surrender, a council was held, in which very discreditable speeches were made by all but Breckenridge (who had overtaken them) and Mr. Davis himself; that Breckenridge immediately proceeded to make good his escape from the country, and Mr. Davis might, if wise, have done the same! Not one of these statements is true. The Cabinet and the President went to Danville from Richmond, Mr. Davis and the rest were there from the 3rd. to the 10th. of April, which last was the day Mr. Breckenridge arrived there on horseback and attended by a small escort. Mr. Davis next went to Greensboro', N. C., and staid there too long, it is true, for his safety, but not so long as Mr. Breckenridge, for the latter was with Gen. Johnston at the time of his surrender, and got credit for the excellent terms which Sherman first agreed to allow Johnston. On the 18th. of April, Mr. Breckenridge sent a telegram from North Carolina to a friend in Virginia; so that even then he had not so much as started on his journey, whereas Mr. Davis certainly started sooner. Mr. Breckenridge was calm and collected throughout,—never excited,—and after Lee had ordered the evacuation of Richmond, his remarkable coolness and presence of mind was the subject of conversation among his associates. To this quality more than anything else does he owe his escape from the country. Dispatch.

A lady, who had received a severe bite in the arm from a dog, went to Dr. Abernathy, but knowing his aversion to hearing any statement of particulars, she merely uncovered the injured part and held it before him in silence. After looking at it an instant he said, in an inquiring tone:

"Scratch?"

"Bite," replied the lady.

"Cat?" asked the Doctor.

"Dog," rejoined the patient.

So delighted was Dr. A. with the brevity and promptness of her replies, that he exclaimed:

"Madam, you are the most sensible woman I ever met with in my life."

SERVED HIM RIGHT.—The Danville Times says: About the time of Lee's surrender, a Federal soldier went into the Rev. Mr. R's kitchen and was expatiating upon what the abolitionists had done for the negroes. The old cook threw down her frying-pan, exclaiming: "La, master, is we all free and equal? then let's take a kiss and a hug." Whereupon she clamped him.

COPARTNERSHIP.

NEWBERN, N. C., November 1st, 1865.

WE HAVE THIS DAY FORMED A COPARTnership under the name and style of

Whitford, Dill & Co.,

for the transaction of a Shipping and General

Commission Business, in this Town, West side Craven Street, on old County Wharf.

To the sale of Cotton, Naval Stores, Tobacco, Lumber, Staves, Shingles, Corn, and all kinds of Produce and Merchandise, and also to the sale and purchase of Real Estate and State and other Stocks, we will give our personal attention.

We are Agents for Murry's North Carolina Semi Weekly Line of Steamships, Between Newbern and New York, and for Sailing Vessels for Baltimore, Philadelphia, and other ports in the United States and for different ports in the West Indies. Thus it will be seen that we are furnished by our own vessels with the amplest facilities for the speedy transportation of Freight and Passengers. But in addition to these, there is a weekly line of Ocean Steamships on the same route, and a tri-weekly line of Steamers by inland route through Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal to Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York; hence Merchants and Shippers entrusting the transportation of their freight to us, can rely with confidence on its speedy transit.

☞ We will make liberal advances on consignments.

All letters addressed to us on the subject of freight, or on any other business, will be promptly answered.
